

This is a basic document.

See how the effect of different spacings works; or not?

Note the use of different styles of text. Use them AS LITTLE as possible.

Note also

- how anything “special” starts “\”,
- how quote characters behave (compare with ”this”),
- how curly braces { and } are used without appearing,
- and how environments always \begin and \end.

1 Sections split up your document

1.1 Subsections are also useful

Note that different L^AT_EX classes (`article`, `book`, etc.) allow for different sectioning commands.
